

Twelfth Annual International Invitational Meeting of The Brunswik Society

"Best ever!"

Saturday, November 2, 1996

Water Tower/West Tower Room, Hyatt Regency Hotel, 151 E. Wacker Drive, Chicago Illinois

Meeting organizers:

Tom Stewart (T.STEWART@ALBANY.EDU)

Jeryl Mumpower (J.MUMPOWER@ALBANY.EDU)

Phone: (518) 442-3850 Fax: (518) 442-3398

Agenda

8:00 - 8:30 Continental Breakfast

8:30 - 10:00 Morning Session I

Welcome and distribution of Brunswikian Futures Survey

Tom Stewart and Jeryl Mumpower

Brunswik-symmetry: a key concept for successful psychological science

Werner Wittman

Generalizability theory and its extensions

Jim Hogge and Steven Schilling

The social relations model: Integration of representative design, the multitrait-multimethod matrix, and Generalizability Theory

Tom Malloy and Linda Albright

10:00 - 10:30 Break

10:30 - 12:00 Morning Session II

Beyond judgment analysis: Brunswik, complex systems, and the human dimension in organizational decision making

Ray Cooksey

Judgment analysis: Why go to all the trouble?

Jim Holzworth

Judgment analysis of health care decisions for lower SES women: Sorting out what works and doesn't work

Marilyn Rothert

12:00 - 1:30 Lunch (on your own, after completing the Brunswikian Futures Survey)

1:30 - 3:00 Afternoon Session I

The context dependency of order effects: an example of the impact of a task's surface features on judgment

Len Adelman

Measuring bizarreness: A representative sampling of congressional districts

Carmen Cirincione, Tom Darling, and Timothy O'Rourke

Distributed expertise, team judgment, and sustained performance: A hierarchical lens model analysis

Rob Mahan

3:00 - 3:30 Break

3:30 - 4:30 Afternoon Session II

Some ties between judgment theory and research on thinking

Mike Doherty

The place of Brunswikian theory in evolutionary psychology

Kenneth Hammond

4:30 - 4:45 Summary and results of the Brunswikian Futures Survey

Jeryl Mumpower and Tom Stewart

4:45 Adjourn